HOPI SNAKE CEREMONIES

Story By: JENNIFER OWINGS

The dancers, all men, filed into the dance plaza of the town. They had shoulder-length hair as sleek and black as raven wings. Bunches of eagle feathers were tied into the thick strands. The men were painted black and white, with zigzag lines to represent lightning. They wore knee-length kilts and woven belts. Each of the dancers had a tortoise shell rattle tied to his right leg below the thigh. The men moved in a shuffling circle, their movements were accompanied by a chant, a low, humming sound that rose and fell like the wind. With this came the rattling of the tortoise shells, not unlike the noise a rattle snake makes when it shakes the hinged buttons at the end of its tail. After several turns in the dancing area, a few of the dancers reached into a hole in the ground, and came up with serpents in their hands. Many of the snakes were coach whips, bull snakes, and other harmless reptiles. Some were full grown rattlesnakes, their rattles buzzing furiously.....

1) The men moved in a shuffling circle.	T	F
2) Each of the dancers had a serpent tied to his right leg below the thigh.	T	F
3) Many of the snakes were coach whips, bull snakes, and other harmless reptiles.	T	F

HOPI SNAKE CEREMONIES

Story By: JENNIFER OWINGS

The men moved in a shuffling circle, their buckskin moccasins kicking up puffs of white dust. Their movements were accompanied by a chant, a low, humming sound that rose and fell like the wind. With this came the rattling of the tortoise shells, not unlike the noise a rattlesnake makes when it shakes the hinged buttons at the end of its tail. After several turns around the dance area, few of the dancers reached into the hole in the ground, a pit that had a shelter of cottonwood boughs over it. It came up with serpents in their hands they gave these to other dancers who put them in their mouths and carried them that way, moving in the rhythm with the chant.

1) The men moved in a shuffling circle.	T	F
2) A few of the dancers did not reach into the hole in the ground.	T	F
3) They came up with turtles in their hands.	T	F
4) The other dancers took the serpents into their mouths.	T	F

From Questions below shade in the letter T if the statement is True or F if the statement is False, for every question.

HOPI SNAKE CEREMONIES:

After several turns around the dance area, a few of the dancers reached into a hole in the ground, a pit that had a shelter of cottonwood boughs over it. They came up with serpents in their hands. They gave it to the dancers, who put them in their mouths and carried them that way, moving in rhythm with the chant...

Many of the snakes were coach whips, bull snakes and other harmless reptiles. Some were full grown rattlesnakes, their rattle buzzing furiously...for a long time i kept my eyes on one dancer , a short stocky man with the hair that flew up when he moved. As long as he made his circle he faced me for as long as a minute. He came close and i could plainly see the sun shining on the scales of the snakes he carried. On one turn he had a rattlesnake in his mouth.

From Questions below shade in the letter T if the statement is True or F if the statement is False, for every question.

Referring to Paragraph 3:

1) A few of the dancers reached into a hole in the ground.	T	F
2) They gave it to the dancers, who put them in their pockets.	T	F

4) The snakes' rattles were buzzing furiously.	T	F
5) He came close and I could plainly see the sun shining on the scales of the snakes he carried.	T	F

Paragraph 4:

Eye Witness Account

Have you ever seen huge explosions of fireworks at a festival? Have you watched a famous Hollywood director shutting down the streets of your hometown to make a new film? Even if you haven't seen an event like these, someone somewhere has and has probably written about them in an eyewitness account. An eyewitness account is a narrative, or story, that tells about something interesting unusual or exciting that the writer has seen. It gives facts and details about an event so that the reader can picture it clearly. Reading an eyewitness account can put you at the scene of the action. You can also write your own eyewitness account that will pull a reader in your world. Writing an eyewitness account is one of the best ways you and the other writers can share what you have seen in the rest of the world.

From Questions below shade in the letter T if the statement is True or F if the statement is False, for every question.

Referring to Paragraph 4:

1) Huge fireworks can be considered as an event.	T	F
2) Eye witness account is not a personal story.	T	F

Question 3: (True or False) Comprehension:

Use the information in the passage to answer the questions below.

From Questions (1) to (20), shade in the answer sheet the letter T if the statement is True or F if the statement is False, for every question.

The Voice in the Attic

Read the passage and answer the following questions.

You look up at the ceiling and call out to an imaginary person in the attic. The person answers you! To the amazement of the audience, you carry on a conversation with this mysterious person.

You can choose to direct your conversation toward someone up in the attic or toward someone down in the basement, if you like. The key to this performance is that you stand with your back to the audience. Your mouth movements can then be less restricted when you speak in the voice of the distant person.

Now, in exactly the same tone and pitch of voice, make the distant voice answer. But, this time, form the words at the back part of the roof of your mouth. Draw your lower jaw back and hold it there. Keep your mouth open. Inhale deeply before you speak.

Then, as you speak, exhale in little jerks, using a bit of air for each word. This action will produce a sound that is subdued and muffled, just a little louder than a whisper.

1) You look up at the ceiling and call out to a real person in the attic.	T	F
2) Then you stay quiet in front of this mysterious person.	T	F
3) The key to this performance is that you stand with your back to the audience.	T	F
4) Your mouth movements can then be very much restricted when you speak in the voice of the distant person.	T	F
5) Exhale in little jerks this action will produce a sound that is subdued and muffled.	T	F

2- Comprehension:

The Voice in the Attic

You can continue your ventriloquially conversation with the voice as the person seemingly comes down the chimney. At every supposed step closer, alter the place from which the person's voice comes. Gradually open the cavity of your mouth and produce the sound closer to your lips. You will create a larger space inside your mouth so that the voice will appear to come nearer and nearer by degrees. By the time the person reaches the bottom of the chimney your lips should be drawn into a circle as though you were whistling. Here is another example of the conversation:

You: Are you up there on the roof, Frank?

Voice: Hello down there! What did you say?

You: I said, are you up there on the roof, Frank?

Voice: I sure am, I'm putting on some shingles.

You: Good. Are you almost finished?

Voice: Oh yes! I'm just putting on the last one now.

From Questions below shade in the letter Ⓙ if the statement is True or Ⓧ if the statement is False, for every question.

1) At every supposed step closer, alter the place from which the person's voice comes.	T	F
2) Do not open the cavity of your mouth to produce the sound closer to your lips.	T	F
3) You can continue your ventriloquial conversation with the voice as the person seemingly comes down the chimney.	T	F
4) By the time the person reaches the bottom of the chimney your lips should be drawn into a circle as though you were whistling.	T	F

3. Comprehension:

The Voice in the Attic

You can make this distant voice appear to come gradually nearer too, to do this call out loudly in your natural voice and say “come down here” at the same time gesture downward with your hand to increase the illusion . Have the voice answer “I’m coming” or “I’m getting closer now” being sure to speak a little louder as the imaginary person approaches. Here is an example of a conversation you might have with the person who is up inside the chimney.

You: Are you up there?

Voice: Yes! I’m sweeping up the chimney.

You: What for? The chimney has already been cleaned.

Voice: I’m looking for bird’s nests.

You: That’s ridiculous! There aren’t any bird’s nests up there, now come down.

Voice: All right...I’m coming.... I’m coming.

From Questions below shade in the letter T if the statement is True or F if the statement is False, for every question.

1) Here is an example of a conversation you might have with the person who is not in the chimney.	T	F
2) The imaginary person is sweeping the chimney.	T	F
3) The voice answers that, “I’m having coffee in the chimney”.	T	F
4) You can't make this distant voice appear to come nearer.	T	F
5) You can make this distant voice appear to come gradually nearer too.	T	F
6) You can gesture downward with your hand to increase the illusion.	T	F

Question 4: (Composition): WRITING:1 (50 words)

A- (Showing instead of telling) turn the following telling statements into descriptive showing passages.

1. I look forward to lunch every day.

Maha was angry that her parents took her to the concert.

2. Anna Marie was fascinated as she watched the play.

3. Paco looks happy today.

B- Write a descriptive essay on the person whom you love the most or a thing which you like the most.

A Descriptive essay contains

- A title

- An introduction with the main idea
- Body containing two or three paragraphs (use descriptive language: sensory details (see, hear, feel), figures of speech and exact words)
- Conclusion(emphasize the main

To write a descriptive essay

- Add details about the subject's shape, size, color
- Include information about its overall appearance or atmosphere
- Include words showing spatial organization(next to, down, close, across from, up, far, near, around, between)
- Arrange in a proper order.

Use words from the help box and the graphical organizer to write your essay.

[Appearance- looks- voice- hair- behavior- nature-why you like him/her/it- why is he/ she/ it special]

2- Fill in the flowchart that shows steps in the process and write a paragraph about how to make a pizza, following the same steps.

Empty rounded rectangular box for a drawing or title.

Series of horizontal lines for writing.

Arrange the following steps in order :

Materials: a kite and string.

Steps:

	Hold the kite so the wind can pick it up.
	When the wind catches the kite, let out string so the kite won't crash.
	Find out what direction the wind is blowing.
	Walk backwards to keep the string tight.
	When you are done, roll up string slowly and the kite will come down.
	As the kite gets higher, gradually let out more string.

Relevant and Irrelevant Details

A relevant detail is one that gives information about the main idea. They explain the process and provide logical support for ideas and explanations.

An irrelevant detail is just fluff. They do not give necessary information, and may distract and annoy your reader.

The following sentences are instructions for shooting a basketball free throw. On a piece of paper, number from 1 to 5. Write R if the sentence following the number in brackets contains irrelevant details. Write I if the sentence contains irrelevant details.

You can shoot free throws much better if you learn the technique. [1] Before you shoot, help yourself relax by following a routine, such as bouncing the ball or taking a deep breath. [2] My brother likes to play basketball, but he's a lousy free-throw shooter. [3] Hold the ball out in front of you with your hands on the sides. [4] Basketball is one of the most popular sports in America today. [5] As you release the ball, push the ball off your hands with a flip of your wrist.

Writing 3: Picture Composition

dog, shoe, basket, tin can, bush; clever, proud, angry, surprised; throw, appear

Bill Watch Toby. He's very clever.
Harry He's a silly dog.
Bill No, he isn't. Watch him.
Harry What are you doing with that old shoe?
Bill Look, Toby's bringing back the shoe.
Harry He is clever.
Bill Oh dear! This is a new shoe.
Harry And look at that man. Why is he angry with us?
Bill It's his shoe!

Read the following six sentences. Write them out in their correct order.

He is throwing it into some bushes.
 But it is not the same shoe: it is a new shoe.
 Bill is picking up an old shoe.
 It belongs to a man and he is very angry with Bill and Harry.
 His dog is running after it.
 The dog is bringing back a shoe and Bill is very proud.

6 Now write this story in a few sentences of your own.

3 Use the sentence table to write two correct sentences about the pictures:

Bill is throwing away His dog is bringing back	an old		tin can shoe
	a	small new different

Now write two correct sentences from the following table:

Bill The man	is	surprised at angry with kind to proud of	the dog Toby
Bill and Harry are

- 4
- What's Bill picking up in Picture 1?
 - Where's Bill throwing the shoe?
 - What's his friend doing?
 - Is the dog running towards Bill or is it running after the shoe in Picture 2?
 - Are the two boys following the dog or are they standing still?
 - What's the dog doing in Picture 3?
 - Is the shoe a new one or an old one?
 - Is the man in Picture 4 angry with the dog or proud of it?

Now based on the picture compose a short story of around 6-8 lines. (50 words)

The End!
